

NBS pavilion session proposal form (please complete)

Host a session at the NbS pavilion

Session title (short and enticing):

Session organiser:

Primary contact for session organisation (name, email, phone):

Session partners:

Indicate which: 1. theme(s); 2. geography (if applicable); and/or (3) ecosystem(s) best suits your session

Session format and length (TED talk, panel, one-on-one interview, publication launch, etc.):

Brief description. Please include:

A summary of your session (150 words or less). Note: draft in an enticing style to attract attendees:

Outcomes of the session:

Anticipated audience (academics, youth, practitioners, private sector, etc.):

How the session fulfils the criteria of the Pavilion:

Please indicate the primary language of the session proposal*:

Given the nature of the exhibition area, translation services will not offered.*

Does this session require media and press support?

Does this session include a VIP, CEO, major donor presence, ambassador or conservation champion? If so, please indicate whom.

Other requests (preferred day or time, catering, etc):

Notes:

IUCN Conservation Congress registration is required of all participants. Please see <https://www.iucncongress2020.org/registration/register-now> to register.

Catering: will be available for purchase at additional cost

Session promotion: promotion of your pavilion session will be supported by the IUCN Congress app, however it is strongly advised to independently advertise and promote your session.

Each large pavilion, including the Nbs pavilion seats approximately 50 people (plus standing room) and includes a stage, welcome desk, a display area, and ample room for receptions for an estimated 80 people. Sessions will be equipped with projectors, screens and microphones.

The appropriate sanitary and social distancing measures will be applied according to the French recommendations at the time.